

[ FAR FORWARD MEDICAL CAPABILITIES – SOMALIA ]

Iqarus rapidly deployed an Aeromedical Evacuation Team (AMET) to provide critical evacuation services supporting military and operational needs in Somalia. We delivered 24/7/365 far forward medical care for entitled personnel across Mogadishu and at outlying duty stations.

Operational Excellence

Since 2012, Iqarus embedded itself in Somalia's complex and volatile environment, consistently delivering medical support despite the challenging political and security landscape. Our ability to adapt and maintain mission readiness ensured that military personnel received the care they needed when it mattered most.

Key Achievements

Effective Far Forward AMET Capability:

- Provided life-saving care directly from the front lines
- Enhanced the mission's medical support system by building capacity and capability
- Boosted the morale and confidence of deployed military personnel

Training and Mentoring:

- Deployed four AMET staff as Pre-Hospital Trauma Life Support (PHTLS) and Advanced Life Support (ALS) instructors
- Delivered primary and refresher training, including Tactical Combat Casualty Care (TCCC), First Responder Course, Basic (Cardiac) Life Support, ACLS, PHTLS, and BSAFE training

Integration into Mass Casualty Planning:

- Seamlessly integrated into the local Mass Casualty Contingency Plan, effectively managing surges in patient loads during mass casualty incidents

Rapid Deployment Success:

- Achieved Full Operating Capability (FOC) in Mogadishu and all AMET Sub-Team locations within 30 days of contract signature

Unmatched Operational Capabilities:

- Delivered high-quality care despite high patient turnover
- Maintained 24-hour operational capability, including night evacuations using night vision goggles
- Conducted evacuation missions in highly kinetic warfighting zones
- Provided continuous support during periods of military transition and high patient volumes
- Demonstrated effective command and control in rapidly changing political and security environments

Collaborating seamlessly with multinational military forces

Iqarus' commitment to delivering far forward AMET services efficiently and effectively not only met operational requirements but also set new standards for aeromedical evacuation capabilities.

Our presence and adaptability in Somalia highlighted our dedication to providing mission-critical support, directly impacting the lives of those on the front lines in some of the world's most challenging environments.
